

Interviewed by Janine Mitchell at CCAP Likhubula Church, Malawi on Wednesday 07.06.2023.

Interviewee: Stella Nganga

Duration: 03:33

SUMMARY KEYWORDS

Likhubula Partnership Committee, Mvano Guild.

00:00

My name is Stella Nganga from Nakhonyo Village.

I'm the steering committee member. We have started our committee in 2007. We started our steering committee and our committee was very good because we had a good communication with our friends from Dunblane. Everything we asked them to help us: maybe to help the needy; to help those old ones; even our children they have got their parents, but the parents have no anything to do with them. So our partners decided to help the children, paying them school fees, helping them in colleges, helping them in everything.

And also we have seen good things at our Mvano, Likhubula Mvano Women's Guild. They also helping us. At first, they helped us caring for chickens. We had more chicks for selling. We are selling eggs from chickens. We have also been selling chickens. And the money. We used it to help the needy, to help the children, even the old women in the community – the Likhubula community. Therefore I've seen that the partnership is good for us. It helps us so much.

01:50

The bursaries have been doing good program to us, even to our children. Others are working, others are teaching, others are still at college, others they have learned machine, they are sewing, there are many.

It helps the community because if you had a child who is educated and employed, he helps other children in the house and even the parents and also helps the community. If he or she is a teacher, she also teaches the children around the community. If she has money, she/he also helps maybe to maintain toilets, or to give the children desks to use it when they are learning.

I thought the best thing to do with the community is also to go on helping them with school fees, helping them in colleges so that they can have source in future.

The best way is to help them learning. Because I can see that the best future to us is Education.